Mark 16:15NIV "He said to them, "Go into all the world and preach the gospel to all creation."

Brazil is about the same size as mainland USA:

- There is all kinds of weather in Brazil, depending on where you live, just like in the USA
- Carpina is 7 degrees from the equator, and is very hot!
- The green area is part of the Amazon rainforest
- Between the Amazon and the ocean is a desert area called "Sertao"
- The "elbow" area where Carpina is located, is the poorest part of Brazil
- Sao Paulo and Rio (in the red states) are the largest cities in Brazil
- Brazil is the only country in South America that doesn't speak Spanish: they speak Portuguese!

Pray For:

- The great poverty that is in Northeast Brazil, and how that especially affects the children
- The government in Brazil is corrupt (transparency.com) and makes it hard for good change to happen
- The 210+ million people that live in Brazil, the 5th largest country in the world, who a majority are mostly Catholic

- What do you think it would be like to live in Brazil?
- What would it be like living near the equator?

Get to know Brazil: Food

Romans 14:3 NIV "The one who eats everything must not treat with contempt the one who does not, and the one who does not eat everything must not judge the one who does, for God has accepted them."

The food in Brazil is colorful and healthy:

- Brazilian food is not Mexican food, but there are similarities. Rice and beans are staples, along with meat and chicken. But Brazilian food is not spicy, and they don't have tacos or burritos
- World Renewal Brazil is in Northeast Brazil, seven degrees from the equator, so it is hot, and there are many tropical fruits that the USA does not have. The Acai bowls are amazing!
- Are you hot or dehydrated? Find a coconut seller to machete cut off the top of a fresh "agua de coco"
- Breakfast in Brazil is typically fresh baguettes, fruit, eggs, cheese, and ham. Lunch typically is the largest meal with rice, beans, meat or chicken with some sides, and dinner is often smaller, with soup, pizza, or sandwiches

Pray For:

- Those in Brazil that don't have enough food to eat
- Missionaries in Brazil missing American food
- Courage to try new foods
- Gratefulness to appreciate the food we have
- Flexibility when you aren't able to have the food you want

Questions to talk about:

- What kind of food do you think Brazil has?
- Do you like to try new foods, or is it difficult for you?
- What do you think is "Typical American food"?
- What do you normally eat for breakfast, lunch, and dinner?
- Why do you think Brazilians normally have a larger meal for lunch instead of dinner?
- Do you think you would enjoy Brazilian food?
- What is the weirdest food you've ever tried?
- What would you most want to try if you visited Brazil?

Get to know Brazil: Holidays

Colossians 2:16-17 NIV "Therefore do not let anyone judge you by what you eat or drink, or with regard to a religious festival...These are a shadow of the things that were to come; the reality, however, is found in Christ."

Carnaval: before Ash Wednesday which is 40 days before Easter

Holidays in Brazil are great because Brazilians love to celebrate:

- Brazil celebrates most of the same major holidays that we do, like Christmas, New Years, Easter, Mother's Day
- Brazil also celebrates some familiar holidays--but on different days: Father's Day, Valentine's Day, Labor day, and Independence Day
- Some holidays that they (mostly) don't celebrate in Brazil that we have in the USA are Halloween, Thanksgiving, Martin Luther King Jr. Day, St.Patrick's Day, President's Day, Memorial Day, Veteran's Day, and April Fool's Day
- To the left are some holidays they have in Brazil, but we don't celebrate in the USA

Pray For:

- Missionaries in Brazil that are missing their family around the holidays
- The safety of children around Carnival, when there are many dangers around
- The opportunities to share about Jesus around many holidays, especially Christmas and Easter

Questions to talk about:

- What is your favorite holiday, and why?
- What would it be like to celebrate the same holiday but in a different country?
- Why are some holidays the same, but on different days in Brazil?
- Why do you think that Brazil doesn't celebrate some of the holidays we have in the USA?
- Why do you think that Brazil has some holidays that we don't have in the USA?
- Which Brazilian holiday (that they have and the USA doesn't) would you like to celebrate?
